Numb. 6616

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Tuesday September 12. to Saturday September 16. 1727.

St. James's, September 16.

THE following humble Addreſs of the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Miniſters, and others of the Communion of the Church of England, Members of the New-Chapel in Edinburgh, erected by the Right Honourable John Smith, late Lord Chief Baron of His Majeſty's Court of Exchequer in Scotland, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the moſt Reverend Father in God the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Albemarle Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majeſty in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

WITH all Duty and Affection to your Majeſty's moſt ſacred Perſon, permit us, great Sir, among the reſt of your faithful Subjects, who have expreſſed their deep Concern for the ſudden Death of your Royal Father our late dread Sovereign, to pay your Tribute of Condolance; and at the ſame time, ſincerely to congratulate your peaceable Succeſſion to the Imperial Crown of Great Britain.

'Tis no wonder that there is, in every Corner of your Majeſty's Dominions, an uncommon Aſpect of Joy and Alacrity; that every Day becomes more Signal than other, for the Expreſſions of your Peoples Loyalty and Affection, when they behold upon the Throne a Monarch, in whom every thing promiſes and ſecures to them the moſt valuable Bleſſings they can deſire or even hope for. The great Lenity and Prudence, wherewith your Majeſty, while Regent, conducted the Reins of Government; and the ſtrict Regard you have had to the Laws, ſince your happy Acceſſion to the Throne; your diffuſive and royal Beneficence, and your other noble and princely Virtues, plainly ſhew, Sir, that you have rivetted this Maxim in your Mind, viz. That there is nothing Good in Power, but the Power to do Good.

Your Majeſty's gracious Declaration muſt unqueſtionably be received by all with infinite Pleaſure and Satisfaction; and as your Knowledge and Experience of our excellent Conſtitution have rendered every Part of it moſt dear to you; we of that Branch of the Church of England, planted in North-Britain, are moſt ſenſible of our Felicity, being very confident that we are ſecure under your Royal Care and Protection.

May the great God of Heaven and Earth, by whom Kings Reign and Princes decree Juſtice, ſhower down the choiceſt of his Bleſſings upon the Head and Heart of your moſt ſacred Majeſty and your Royal Conſort our gracious and excellent Queen, who ſo viſibly adorns the eminent Prerogatives of her high Birth with Sentiments of Piety, which always ſanctify Grandeur, and muſt contribute to the Glory, as well as Eſtabliſhment, of true Religion; her Majeſty's bright Example is a clear Proof, that the higheſt Pitch of human Greatneſs (which renders the Practice of Holineſs more difficult) is however by no Means incompatible with it: The Juſtice and Goodneſs of Divine Providence are moſt conſpicuous in giving her Majeſty to a great Proteſtant Church and Nation; the former appears in crowning her rare Endowments, the latter in providing for our Happineſs.

From theſe auſpicious Beginnings of your glorious Reign, the Church of England may juſtly expect and look for the fulleſt Accompliſhment of this Prophecy in your Days, viz. Kings ſhall be thy nurſing Fathers and their Queens thy nurſing Mothers.

We humbly crave Leave to add our Prayers, that your Royal Offſpring may inherit the ſublime Virtues of their illuſtrious Parents; and ever continue to be the Favourites of Heaven, by whom alone, we are perſwaded, the Proſperity of Great Britain can be preſerved and tranſmitted to after Ages.

The

The following humble Addreſs of the Miniſters and Elders of the Provincial Synod of Argyll, has been preſented to His Majeſty by his Grace the Duke of Argyll and Greenwich, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Albemarle Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majeſty in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt loyal and dutiful Subjects, embrace this firſt Opportunity of our meeting together, to approach your Sacred Perſon, to condole with your Majeſty the Death of our late great and gracious Sovereign your Royal Father, whoſe paternal Care of all his Subjects and conſummate Wiſdom illuſtriouſly appeared in the whole Courſe of his Adminiſtration, of which all his Dominions felt the ſweet Effects; we in a ſpecial Manner have reaped of the happy Fruits of his pious and prudent Zeal for advancing a Work of Reformation in our Bounds, expreſſed not only in the Continuance of the Encouragement firſt granted us by our glorious Deliverer, of immortal Memory, but likewiſe in his additional Favours for promoting that valuable Work to the Highlands in general. The Loſs of a Monarch that was ſo great and univerſal a Bleſſing to his own Subjects, and indeed to the whole Proteſtant Cauſe, muſt have left us inconſolable, had not Divine Goodneſs ſupplied his Place with a Son, the Inheritor of his Father's Virtues, which revives our Spirits, and for which we deſire ever to render to Almighty God the King of Kings, our moſt humble and hearty Praiſes.

Your Majeſty's Declaration upon your firſt Meeting with your Council, and your early Forwardneſs in aſſuring the Church of Scotland, whereof we are Members, of the Maintenance of her Rights and Privileges ſecured by Law, fully anſwer the Expectations we had whenever it ſhould pleaſe God to bring your Majeſty to ſway the Britiſh Scepter; and leave no Room to doubt of the Happineſs of your Subjects, under the Government of ſo gracious and every way ſo accompliſh'd a Monarch.

It was with the greateſt Pleaſure we received Aſſurance from the Throne, that your Majeſty found, among your Proteſtant Subjects, mutual Charity and Forbearance; and it is our earneſt Prayer to the God of Love and Peace, that Charity may ſtill prevail; that there be no other Strife among your Subjects, than a deſirable Emulation who ſhall contribute moſt to promote Piety and Virtue, and to make the weighty Burthen of the Crown ſit eaſy on your Sacred Head. As we have always regulated our Conduct by Principles of Moderation and Peace, ſo, through the Grace of God, we reſolve to proceed in the ſame Meaſures, and ſhall count none our Enemies but ſuch as are Enemies to Religion itſelf, and to your Majeſty's Perſon and Government; Intereſts we know to be inſeparable.

We adore the Goodneſs of God, who hath bleſſed your Majeſty with ſuch a numerous and promiſing Off-ſpring by your Royal Conſort the beſt of Queens, whoſe ſteady Adherence to the Proteſtant Religion, againſt the ſtrongeſt and too frequently prevailing Temptation, all Europe knows; which affords us the joyful Proſpect of the Tranſmiſſion of our happy Privileges to our lateſt Poſterity.

May the great God, by whom Kings reign, favour us in granting your Majeſty a long and proſperous Reign; ſignally bleſs and preſerve the precious Lives of your Royal Conſort our gracious Queen, and your hopeful Off-ſpring: May He direct all your Counſels, and make them ſucceſsful; and may the Britiſh Crown be continued and flouriſh in your Royal Family while Sun and Moon endure; which is the ſincere Prayer of,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

Your Majeſty's moſt loyal, moſt faithful, and moſt devoted Subjects and Servants,

The Miniſters and Elders of the Synod of Argyll.

The following humble Addreſs of the Provincial Synod of Glenelg, has been preſented to His Majeſty by his Grace the Duke of Argyll and Greenwich, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Albemarle Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majeſty in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

Unto the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's moſt faithful and moſt loyal Subjects, in Synod aſſembled, beg Leave humbly to approach your ſacred Perſon at the Time we firſt receive confirm'd Accounts of two great Events, the Demiſe of our late moſt gracious Sovereign King George the Firſt, of glorious Memory, and your Majeſty's happy Acceſſion to Him in the Throne of theſe your Kingdoms by indiſputable Right.

Allow us, Great Sir, to preſs in through the Crowd, we doubt not, of all Britiſh Societies, in this the only Way we can preſume to think of Acceſs to your Majeſty's Preſence; and there in your Majeſty's Hearing, and before the World, to eccho to the univerſal Proclamations of Sorrow, which now muſt fill not only your own, but all other, at leaſt Proteſtant Courts in Europe, for the Death of

of our King, ſo great, ſo good, ſo wiſe, that he was equally eſteem'd and fear'd by his Enemies, and admir'd and lov'd by his Friends. Your Majeſty will ſuffer us to mention the peculiar Reaſons, which we the Miniſters of the Highlands and Iſlands of Scotland have to lament the Departure of that excellent and great King, who, as he prov'd an able and zealous Defender of the Proteſtant Religion over all Europe, was the true nurſing Father of the Churches in his own Dominions at Home and Abroad, eſpecially in our Bounds, where he merited that Character in a very ſignal Manner. It was in his Time, and by the Influence of his benign Government, that this our Synod, and many of the Pariſhes therein, were erected; and his Majeſty was graciouſly pleas'd, of his Royal Bounty, to beſtow a conſiderable Sum for this and ſome Years bygone, for carrying on a Reformation in the Bounds to which we belong, where there is yet Need of many new Erections, moſt of the Pariſhes are ſo very wide and populous.

It is however Matter of the greateſt Joy to us, and what we do in our publick, as well as private Addreſſes to Heaven, with Hearts full of Gratitude acknowledge, a very eminent Inſtance of God's Mercy rejoycing over his Judgments to theſe ſinful Nations, that now we ſee your Majeſty ſway the Scepter, after your Subjects have for ſo many Years had Experience of the great Goodneſs and conſummate Abilities of yourſelf, and Royal Conſort our moſt gracious Queen; and that from your Royal Progeny, the Hope and Delight of your Subjects, we have the ſolid Proſpect of our Religion, Liberty and Property being maintain'd and ſecur'd by your auguſt Family.

We have on all Occaſions aſſerted the undoubted Right of your Royal Family to the Imperial Crown of Great Britain and Ireland, and Dominions thereunto belonging; and we will continue, at all Hazards, to own your Majeſty as our rightful and lawful Sovereign, againſt all Pretenders whatſoever: Nor ſhall we be deficient, according to the Duty of our Station, to inſtill into the Minds of the People Principles of Fidelity and Loyalty to your Majeſty, and of good Affection to the Proteſtant Succeſſion in your illuſtrious Family.

We conclude with our earneſt Prayer to the King of Kings, that He may long preſerve your ſacred Majeſty to reign a happy Prince over an obedient and dutiful People, and continue you the Guardian of the Proteſtant Intereſt in Europe; That He may make you the happy Inſtrument of advancing and finiſhing a Reformation Work; That He may eminently bleſs the Queen, the Prince of Wales, and the reſt of your Royal Iſſue; and that after He hath long honour'd you to ſerve Him on Earth, He may bleſs you with an everlaſting Crown of Glory in Heaven.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

Your Majeſty's moſt faithful, moſt obedient, and moſt loyal Subjects,

The Miniſters met in the Provincial Synod of Glenelg.

Glenelg, July 11, 1727.

The following humble Addreſs of the Juſtices of the Peace, Freeholders, Heretors, and Gentlemen of the Shire of Argyll, has been preſented to His Majeſty by his Grace the Duke of Argyll and Greenwich, Hereditary Lord-Lieutenant and High Sheriff of that Shire, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Albemarle Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majeſty in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Ma jeſty

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt loyal and dutiful Subjects, beg Leave, after condoling with your Majeſty on the Death of your late Royal Father our Gracious Sovereign, to expreſs our unfeigned Joy on your Majeſty's happy and auſpicious Acceſſion to the Throne of your Anceſtors.

The many Royal Virtues of which your Majeſty has given ſuch eminent and early Proofs, muſt afford your faithful Subjects the moſt agreeable Proſpect of living a happy People under ſo great and gracious a Prince.

As we firmly rely on your Royal Aſſurances of protecting the Rights and promoting the Welfare of your Subjects, we think ourſelves bound by Gratitude and Intereſt, as well as Duty, to contribute our utmoſt to the Support and Defence of your Throne, on which alone our Happineſs depends.

That your Majeſty's Reign may ſurpaſs that of the moſt Renowned of your Anceſtors in Length and Glory; that Heaven may long preſerve your Royal Conſort, ſo great a Bleſſing to your People; and that to the lateſt of Ages your Royal Deſcendants may ſway the Scepter of theſe Realms, are and ſhall ever be the ardent Wiſhes of,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

Your Majeſty's moſt faithful, moſt dutiful, and moſt loyal Subjects.

The following humble Addreſs has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Honourable the Lord Lewiſham, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Paget Lord of of the Bedchamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Portreeve, Bayliff, Freeholders and Burgesses of the Borough of Great Bedwin, in the County of Wilts, do humbly beg Leave to condole with your Majesty upon the Death of the late King your Royal Father, and at the same Time to express to your Majesty the true Sense we have of our Happiness in a Sovereign, who, during the short Time the Administration was entrusted to his Care, as Regent, sufficiently convinced us how much he had at Heart the Good and Prosperity of this Nation; and as your Majesty has since omitted no Opportunities of acquainting yourself with what may be most conducive to those Ends, we entirely depend upon your Majesty's Wisdom in taking such Measures as will maintain our happy Constitution both in Church and State, establish our Trade, and preserve inviolate all those undoubted Rights and Privileges, acquired at the Expence of so much Blood and Treasure, and by so solemn Treaties ratified and confirmed to us.

We heartily pray for the long Life of your Majesty and that of your Royal Consort, whose great and shining Qualities we are truly sensible of; and that in after Ages we may never want one of your illustrious Family to reign over us.

The following humble Address of the several Justices of the Peace for the Liberty of St. Albans, assembled at the General Quarter-Sessions of the Peace holden for the Liberty of St. Albans, in the County of Hertford, the 13th Day of July, 1727, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Lord Grimstone, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Albemarle Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

May it please your Majesty,

AS the surprizing News of the sudden Death of our late Soveign your Royal Father, was received by your Majesty with the tenderest Emotions of a just Grief; so we, with all your other dutiful Subjects, could not but entertain the deepest Sense both of your Majesty's Affliction and our own great Loss.

The Fall of so great a Prince must give a Shock even to the whole World; Europe more especially regrets the powerful and wise Arbiter of her most important Interests; the Protestant Churches mourn for their greatest Protector and heartiest Friend; but these Nations must lament him as a Prince raised by Providence to rescue our Religion, Liberties, and all that is dear to us, from the most threatning Danger; under whose wise and just Administration, these Privileges, for several Years, have been secured; and from the Prudence and Firmness of whose Counsels we were justly expecting the Blessings of a well-settled and lasting Peace and Tranquillity: In such Views our Grief must have been inconsolable, and nothing but the darkest Scenes have overwhelmed us, if God, in Mercy to these Kingdoms, had not placed your Majesty on the Throne, whereby all our melancholy Apprehensions vanish'd in a Moment, Joy filled every Heart, and nothing but the brightest Prospects appeared on every Side.

The great Expectations we had so justly conceived from those Princely Qualities, which had for so many Years shone with an unfading Lustre in a lower Station, begin already to be more than answered, by the consummate Wisdom and paternal Goodness which has appeared in the first Exercises of your Majesty's Government, and are confirmed by those significant Marks of Veneration and Satisfaction with which all Europe beholds your Majesty ascending the Throne of your Ancestors.

It is the peculiar Happiness of this Time, that to your Majesty all Hearts seem united, even those who have been most divided in Affection and Interest; All look upon you as the Source of their common Happiness, and as worthy of universal Love.

When we behold sitting on the Throne such a Prince, and see the Throne so adorned with a Queen Consort truly Protestant, who, as by her illustrious Vertue she justly merits the Crown she wears, so by an inexpressible Sweetness captivates every Heart; when we see the Throne surrounded and supported by so numerous and hopeful an Issue; we no longer wonder at that universal Joy, which appears without a Check in every British Countenance, from a Sight so unusual, and which gives the largest Prospect of lasting Happiness.

In such Circumstances, undissembled Loyalty and affectionate Obedience will be paid with Pleasure by a joyful People, and the most ardent Prayers continually presented, that your Majesty and your Royal Consort may long reign together happy in each other, and your Royal Off-spring happy in the persevering Affection of all your Subjects, and be the blessed Instruments of our increasing Prosperity and Happiness.

And when Heaven shall give your Majesty in Exchange a better Crown, may the same Blessings be continued in the Person of his Royal Highness, and his Descendants, to the latest Posterity.

These are the most ardent Desires and Prayers of, May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most devoted,
and most obedient Subjects and Servants.

The

The following humble Addreſſes having been tranſmitted to his Excellency the Lord Carteret Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, have by him been preſented to His Majeſty, who was pleaſed to receive them very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,
The humble Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Juſtices of the Peace, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Sligoe, at a General Aſſizes and General Goal Delivery held at Sligoe for the County of Sligoe, the 10th Day of Auguſt, 1727.

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave in the humbleſt Manner, at the ſame Time that with Hearts full of Joy we congratulate your Majeſty's happy Acceſſion to the Throne of your Anceſtors, to expreſs our great Concern for the Death of your Royal Father our late moſt gracious King; a Loſs to theſe Nations; and the Proteſtant Intereſt of Europe, that could be repair'd by your Majeſty alone.

Your early and heroick Behaviour in the Cauſe of Liberty, muſt convince thoſe Princes who would diſturb the Peace of Europe, that you will not only maintain the Rights and Poſſeſſions of your own Kingdoms, but that you will become a Protector of the Liberties of Europe, and of that Faith of which you are the Defender, and a Terrour to your Enemies. Your mild and prudent Adminiſtration when Regent, being an Earneſt of the great Felicity theſe Nations may aſſure themſelves of under your Majeſty's Government; we ſhould have been ſurpriz'd, if leſs Joy and Satisfaction than univerſal, had appeared upon your Majeſty's Acceſſion to the Imperial Crown of theſe Kingdoms.

The Aſſurance, Great Sir, your high and princely Qualities give us of a glorious Reign, receive a great Addition by the Bleſſing Heaven has beſtowed upon your Majeſty in our moſt excellent Queen your Royal Conſort, fitted by her high Station and bright Example to render Virtue and Religion as faſhionable as they are lovely. And as the Proteſtants of this County have always been attached to the Hanover Succeſſion, we promiſe your moſt Sacred Majeſty, as an Earneſt of our future Duty and Loyalty, that we will never ſend any Perſons to repreſent us in Parliament, whoſe Zeal for the Intereſt of your Family has not been conſpicuous.

May your Majeſty's Reign be long and glorious; may you never want the Hearts of a grateful and obedient People, made happy by your Government; and may we never want one of your Royal Iſſue to reign, and to be the Glory and Happineſs of theſe Nations.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,
The humble Addreſs of the Lord Lieutenant, High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Juſtices of the Peace, Clergy, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County of Gallway, aſſembled at a General Aſſizes held in the Town of Gallway, for the County of Gallway, the 28th Day of July, 1727.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, with all Humility approach your Sacred Perſon, to congratulate your happy Acceſſion to the Throne of theſe Kingdoms, and with the deepeſt Concern condole the Loſs of your Royal Father our moſt gracious Sovereign, under whoſe auſpicious Reign we, though in the remoteſt Parts of his Dominions, and in every Diſturbance expoſed to the greateſt Danger, have enjoyed a Series of continued Bleſſings.

His great and good Actions will, no doubt, make his Memory Sacred in all ſucceeding Ages; but nothing can endear it more to us, or our lateſt Poſterity, than his conſtant Care to tranſmit in Peace to you, the Heir and Succeſſour of all his Virtues, the Throne of your Royal Anceſtors; and by ſecuring your Acceſſion, provide againſt a Loſs that nothing elſe was able to ſupply.

We cannot, without the higheſt Satisfaction, behold the Felicity of theſe Nations ſtill increaſing under every Succeſſion in your illuſtrious Family; your Royal Father ſecured our Peace, and preſerved our Rights againſt all the Attempts of Foreign Enemies, and the reſtleſs Endeavours of a Domeſtick Faction. In the very Entrance of your Reign every Appearance from Abroad promiſes undiſturbed Tranquility, and the Proſpect at Home is ſtill more agreeable; all your Subjects now only contending to out-do each other in their Tenders of Duty and Loyalty to your Sacred Perſon and Government.

When, with theſe happy Preſages, we conſider your known Affection to theſe Nations, and your Princely Virtues, that in every State, either of Peace or War, eſpecially fit you to promote or ſecure their Happineſs; the diſtinguiſhed Merit of your Royal Conſort in every Endowment that can adorn a great Queen; and the promiſing Appearance of theſe Hereditary Virtues in your Numerous and Royal Iſſue; we know not where to fix a Period, or ſet Bounds to the growing Glories of the Britiſh Empire, under the illuſtrious Houſe of Hanover.

As we ſhall be ever thankful to the Divine Goodneſs for theſe ineſtimable Bleſſings which we enjoy under your Royal Line, permit us, Gracious Sovereign, among the Crowds of your faithful Subjects upon this Occaſion, to pay this our humble, but juſt Tribute of Duty and Loyalty; and to aſſure your Majeſty, that we ſhall always with the utmoſt Fidelity, Chearfulneſs and Zeal, do every thing in our Power that may in the leaſt contribute to the Eaſe, Proſperity and Safety of your Government; and be ready to ſacrifice every thing that is dear to us, to preſerve and defend your Sacred Perſon, and the Succeſſion in your Royal Family.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Juſtices of the Peace, Clergy, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Clare, met at an Aſſizes held at Ennis, for the ſaid County, the 25th of July 1727.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave to aſſure your Majeſty, that our Hearts are filled with inexpreſſible Joy at your Majeſty's peaceful and happy Succeſſion to the Throne of your Anceſtors, which alone could mitigate our Grief for the Death of your Royal Father our late moſt glorious Sovereign.

Your Majeſty's Declaration, that the Preſervation of the Conſtitution in Church and State, as it is now happily eſtabliſhed, ſhall be your firſt and always your chief Care, and that you will ſecure to all your Subjects the full Enjoyment of their religious and civil Rights, demands our moſt dutiful Acknowledgments; nor is it more than we might have expected from your Majeſty, who with ſuch intrepid Valour ſo early diſtinguiſhed yourſelf in Defence of the Proteſtent Cauſe and the Liberties of Europe; and from the Experience we already have had of your Majeſty's Wiſdom, Vigilance and Conduct in governing theſe Kingdoms, we muſt ſincerely aſſure your Majeſty, that we ſhall be always ready, to the utmoſt of our Powers, to maintain and ſupport your Majeſty's undoubted Right to the Imperial Crown of theſe Realms, and upon all Occaſions to give Demonſtration of our inviolable Fidelity to your Majeſty's Government, and that your Majeſty reigns as well in our Hearts and Affections, as over our Perſons.

May your Majeſty enjoy a long, proſperous and glorious Reign, and, together with your Royal Conſort our moſt gracious Queen, continue the Delight and Bleſſing of your People; and may the Crown of theſe Kingdoms for ever deſcend to Princes of your moſt illuſtrious Houſe, adorned with thoſe Virtues and inſpired with thoſe Inclinations and Sentiments which render your Majeſty ſo truely amiable to all your Subjects.

By the Lords Juſtices and Council of Ireland,

A PROCLAMATION.

Hu. Armach. Tho. Wyndham C. Wm. Conolly.

WHereas His Majeſty, by and with the Advice and Conſent of His Council of both Kingdoms, for certain weighty and urgent Occaſions concerning His Majeſty and this State, and the Defence of this Realm of Ireland, and the Church of the ſame, hath ordained that a Parliament be held in this Kingdom, and there to have Conference with the Prelates, Peers, and other great Men of the ſaid Kingdom, concerning the ſame: Theſe are therefore to publiſh and make known, by this Our Proclamation, His Majeſty's Pleaſure in that Behalf; and that the ſaid Parliament is to be held at Dublin on Tueſday the 14th Day of November next: For Summoning of which Parliament, Writs will be iſſued, bearing Teſte on Wedneſday the 13th of this Inſtant September. Whereof all Perſons concerned are to take Notice.

Given at the Council-Chamber in Dublin, the 9th of September, 1727.

WHereas on the 19th or 20th of August last, one Thomas Eastham, of Walton near Preston in Lancashire, was murdered near Sutton in Warwickshire: The Mare he rid on being missing since that Time, this is to give Notice, That whoever takes up the said Mare, shall receive One Guinea Reward, to be paid by the Constable of Sutton; Mr William Baldwin, of Blackburne; or Mr. John Nock, Merchant, in Preston: The Description of the Mare is, viz. A Mouse-coloured Chesnut, without any White, except the Saddle Spots; 13 Hands and a half high, coming eight Years old: She walks and trots well, and flings up her Head as she goes.

Worcester, Sept. 13, 1727.

WHereas by a Decree in Chancery, One Thousand Pounds were to be paid to the Creditors of Humphrey Soley, Esq; deceased, out of the Personal Estate of Mrs. Mucklow, of the City of Worcester, Widow, within three Months after her Decease: And whereas we find, among the rest of the Creditors, a Sum of Money due to one Mrs. Ann Walker, Widow, but no Demand has been made for the same, tho' the said Mrs. Mucklow has been dead above three Years; These are therefore to certify whom it may concern, that whoever will come and make out his or her Right to the Money, due to the said Mrs Walker, shall be paid the same by us the Executors of the said Mrs. Mucklow,

Martin Sandys,
Richard Sambatch.
